

Author bio

Azra Mohamed

Azra is a Teacher Educator involved in ELT, with eleven years of experience working in both pre-service and in-service teacher education. She has worked in a variety of short term, language courses designed for educational administrators and teachers. Previously, she had 18 years of experience working as a teacher of English in state schools with young learners.

Her first degree with a Second Upper class and the Post Graduate Diploma in English were obtained from the University of Peradeniya and her Post Graduate Diploma in Education from the Open University of Sri Lanka. Her MA (TESOL) was obtained from Flinders University Australia, having also received the chancellor's recommendation for both years of study. Being certified as a Master Trainer and a core skills trainer in the iTESL project is an important miles-stone in her CPD.

She also teaches English Literature and is interested in conducting research in the ELT field.